Toilet Science

Toilet Seat Kit Sends Germs And Odour Outside

Bill Berdux, senior vice president of sales and marketing for Miracle Seat Company, shows the unique features of a new toilet seat during the International Builders' Show in Las Vegas, Nevada, January 20, 2004. The vented Miracle Seat and a remotely-attached fan capture odors and germs and exhaust them outside the home before they can escape the toilet bowl, Berdux said. Smoke in the bowl provides a visual illustration of toilet odours. The $124.95 seat kit is only available online. Picture taken January 20, 2004. (Reuters/Las Vegas Sun/Steve Marcus)
